The 60-second version

Business: MMFX teaches and equips gold (XAU/USD) and forex traders. It's an introducing-broker model — there's no subscription. Members get a free trial, then keep full access by funding a trading account with a partner broker. The money stays in the member's own account, in their own name.

Funnel:

Meta ad → landing page (marketmakersfx.net/lp/...) → free signup
→ 7-day full-access trial → fund broker account → member

What we're buying: trial signups that convert to funded accounts.

The hero product (new, 14 Aug 2026): the AI Trading Assistant — connects read-only to a trader's live account and shows them exactly where they're losing money. Strongest hook we have.

! Five things that will bite you if you skip them

1. Forex is a restricted category on Meta. Financial-services ad policy applies, and some markets require advertiser authorisation. Confirm account standing and market eligibility before building. See `05-COMPLIANCE.md`.
 2. No earnings claims. Ever. No profits, no income, no "typical results", no profit screenshots. This is both Meta policy and financial-promotion regulation. See the safe/unsafe phrasing table in `05-COMPLIANCE.md`.
 3. The Purchase event is delayed and manual — a human verifies the broker deposit before it fires. Don't set Purchase as the initial optimisation event. Full guidance in `03-LANDING-PAGES-AND-TRACKING.md`.
 4. US/UK have a different offer (no partner broker; paid lifetime membership instead of free-with-deposit). Don't run the standard trial creative there — confirm targeting with Don first.
 5. Always use the `/lp/` landing pages, never the app domain. They're purpose-built, message-matched, and carry the attribution the tracking depends on. Sending traffic straight to the app breaks measurement.

What we need from you

- Confirmation the ad account is eligible for financial-services advertising in the target markets
- Proposed campaign structure + initial creative concepts for approval
- Naming convention alignment (see the `cid` scheme in file 03) so creative performance ties back to our analytics

Anything unclear or missing — ask Don before assuming. Especially any claim about performance, results, or earnings.
